SACRAMENTO REGION MERGER ANNOUNCED

ROSEVILLE, CA, SEPTEMBER 27, 2016: GALLINA LLP announces the merger of their Sacramento Region offices. Effective December 1, 2016, its Rancho Cordova, California office will be closed and move to the firm headquarters in Roseville, California. This adds 45 high level professional jobs to the City of Roseville and Placer County.

Managing Partner, Larry Taylor, shares “we’re excited to bring our local team members together under one roof.” He continues “this will bring more opportunities for our staff to grow in specialized industries and allow for greater synergy.”

Since moving their headquarters in December 2008, GALLINA has continued to add more space including a large expansion in December 2013. GALLINA currently controls an entire floor and as part of this merger is expanding another 9,500 square feet within 925 Highland Pointe Drive.

“Beyond using more local real estate, we’re excited to support the City of Roseville’s efforts for economic development” shares Taylor. “Roseville is a great place to work and do business with many attractive amenities for our team members.”

GALLINA’s Rancho Cordova office at 2870 Gold Tailings Court plans to move to their Roseville headquarters at 925 Highland Pointe Drive, Suite 450. There are no plans to eliminate positions as a result of the office merger.
